Thank You for Supporting Turner Hall

The City of New Ulm was founded by Turners in 1856, solidifying New Ulm as a settlement with the Chicago Land Society. The first Turner Hall building was built in 1858 on the current site and was lost to fire in the US-Dakota War of 1862. A second building would be built in 1866 which included (insert detail), an addition would be added in 1873 which includes the Rathskeller/Bar, Dutch Room, Founders Bar upstairs, and a third floor that housed meeting rooms. In 1901 the North side of the building would be razed and rebuilt to include (Turner opera house). In January of 1952, after a speech by then Senator Hubert Humphrey, a fire broke out in the opera house, destroying much of building. The Dutch Room, Rathskeller/Bar and Founders room survived, the third floor was damaged and still remains closed off to the public. There are hopes to restore the third floor in the future. The Turners decided to rebuild after the fire and chose this site for its new home, building with a gymnasium and meeting room which is what you see present day. Currently the building is used for weddings, special events, other organization fundraisers, and meetings. You're welcome to explore the building. The Dutch room includes photos of Turner Hall through the years.

What is Turnerism?

The practices of the Turners, or Turnverein, German-American gymnastic clubs that also served as nationalist political groups. Turnerism was founded in Germany in the early 19th century by Friedrich Ludwig Jahn when Germany was occupied by Napoleon. After the failed Revolutions of 1848 in Germany, the Turner movement was suppressed and many left Germany with some emigrating to the United States. Many Turners fought for the Union in the Civil War, were bodyguards for President Abraham Lincoln during his inauguration and funeral. Many went on to become politicians themselves. Turners founded the first gymnasiums in the U.S. as well as pushed for physical education in schools.
